

OVERVIEW OF LYMPHOLOGY AND LYMPHEDEMA MANAGEMENT HSCI 10154

Learn about the basics of lymphedema and related disorders.

This one day workshop will explore the different types and stages of edema, clinical pathways for treatment and the need for skilled care. Topics include the role and mechanics of compression and complex decongestive therapy, the International Lymphedema Framework Movement, research resources and educational opportunities in the field of lymphology.

OPEN TO REGULATED HEALTH CARE PROFESSIONALS, AND STUDENTS IN REGULATED HEALTH CARE FIELDS.

Faculty: John Mulligan, RMT/CLT-LANA
Date: Sat., Feb 4, 2012
Time: 9:00 AM – 4:30 PM
Cost: $95.19 CRN: 15060

Location: Mohawk McMaster Institute of Applied Health Sciences,
McMaster University, Hamilton, Ontario

Course Registration:
Winter, 2012 Continuing Education Catalogue
Available online at: <http://ce.mohawkcollege.ca>